Every single human footprint takes years for nature to fully overcome. Every step you take leaves a singular mark on the earth.

We are looking for artists who engage with this topic – be it the ecological footprint or the transience of the world and what nature retrieves for itself in the end.

This tendering is directed towards artists, sculptors, painters, photographers and filmmakers up to 40 years of age.

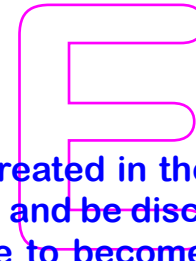

In the Bavarian foothills, between Bad Tölz and Tegernsee, there are two alpine cottages to be utilized for the purpose of an “Alm Residency”. One cottage is situated on the mountain itself, the other is around an hour away in the forest next to a stream.

During this super + alm residency, the artists are to engage with the local environment and create projects in the forest or in its surroundings.

This can be done either with the respective residents or in solo projects. Generally, any exchange is desired and compliant.

The goal is to present the documented results at the end of the residency week.

A variety of scenarios are conceivable.

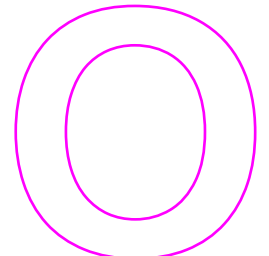

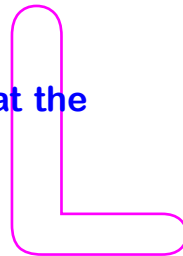

The works that are created in the forest are destined to stay in their places and be discovered by hikers and wanderers, after a time to become part of a sculpture park in the area.

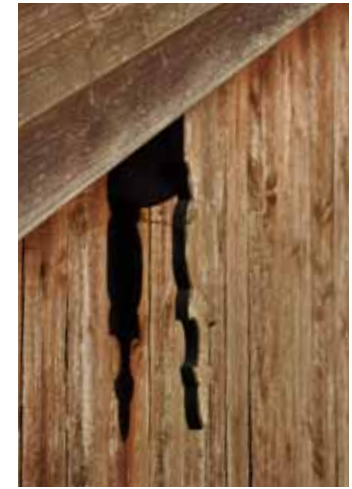

Smaller and transportable works can and should be shown in a gallery/ exhibition space (possibly the centercourt clubhouse, tbc).

Visitations: every resident should receive guests during the time in the cottages to reflect upon and discuss the works.

The results should additionally be documented and presented at a communal dinner and party at “Gut Kammerloh” at the end of the week.

The accrued material (photos, films, etc.) is to be provided to super+ and the Gut Kammerloh in coordination with the artists for marketing and presentation purposes.
